eNewsletter, custom built Website, Calendar and school mobile app - SZapp.

The Challenge

Formatting of the newsletter was a hindrance on time poor teaching staff, who just couldn't keep up with the demands of sharing our schools learning journey, as well as keep in contact with families and the community about important information and events.

The Schoolzine Difference

Schoolzine's solution is to provide Quorn Area School with the digital tools required to successfully communicate with their communities and meet the parent engagement demands. We have worked closely with the principal and the leadership team, to integrate one platform for parent and community engagement. The Schoolzine platform has now delivered an accessibility compliant and responsive digital newsletter, mobile app and website solution that is not only visually appealing but allow Quorn Area School to easily update content with our comprehensive training and Content Management System (CMS). The solution accommodated all Quorn Area School requirements and has improved their communications and parent engagement.

The Results

Gone are the days that the paper copy newsletter is found in the bottom of a child's school bag and printed in black and white. Ever since Schoolzine was launched within our school community the outreach to parents and friends has been tenfold.

We can now share information at the touch of a button and more importantly not limit the amount of images we submit to the newsletter, with the ability to upload videos showcasing student learning. The design of all platforms has assisted in unifying our professional overall look of the school.

“Quorn Area School has a long tradition of working collaboratively with families; however, recent changes in demographics, coupled with technological advances, left us looking for creative new ways to engage more effectively with our community. With Schoolzine's website, we could fully customise it just how we wanted it and the look of it is fantastic. The team at Schoolzine have been nothing but friendly and helpful. I would highly recommend their service to any school looking for a new professional website.”
